SPRING TEAM

DON'T HAVE, OR DIDN'T MAKE YOUR HS TEAM?

If you are in High School and did not make your team, you are eligible to play on PBI's HS Spring Instructional Team. PBI's HS SIT gives players the opportunity to play a spring season vs. HS caliber competition.

Do not get discouraged by being "cut" from your HS team. It does not mean that it is all over for your career.

There are numerous players that have played on PBI's HSSIT that have made their high school team the following season. Some former PBI HSSIT players have gone on to become a contributing player on their HS's team the next year.

PBI SPRING HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Every March, hundreds of players are not chosen for their high school's team during tryouts. This can be a very confusing and unfamiliar experience, especially when you had been looking forward to playing for your school's team. One of the most difficult tasks that a high school coaching staff faces is to "cut" players. Many of these players could have been good enough to make the team, but some years there may be a larger pool of talent than normal. Also, coaches are limited to the amount of players that a roster can hold, therefore, a player may become a victim of numbers. That is where Professional Baseball Instruction's High School Spring Instructional Team comes in to play...

Sitting out for an entire spring, and trying to "pick it up" again in your summer league is a very difficult task. Especially when the players that you compete against in the summer have an entire high school season under their belts. During this time of the year, players need to work on their skills and develop them in game situations in order to improve and excel as serious baseball players. PBI's HS SIT affords players the opportunity to play a spring season vs. high school caliber competition under the tutelage of former professional players and coaches to improve upon the skills that they will need to compete at the high school level.

A large majority of players that are "cut" never give it another shot the following year. This is a concern that every high school coaching staff encounters when they make their decisions. Especially with "borderline" players- and with the players that may have been good enough, but encountered roster issues. High School coaches may see potential in players that they just cannot keep. But coaches do not want to lose these players for future years. Your coaches want to see you work hard, improve in the needed areas and come back next year.
